

SEN Information Report

Brief description of the school

Serlby Park Academy opened in September 2011 sponsored by the Delta Academies Trust. As a 3-16 Academy, we believe firmly in providing our young people with the best experiences, the best outcomes and the best opportunities. We pride ourselves on our adaptability and willingness to cater for the needs of our learners as individuals, recognising the need to engage fully with our pupils, their parents and the communities they live in. We want all our students to achieve their potential and we make sure that there are no limitations or barriers to reaching the highest possible standards of academic, social and personal development.

At Serlby Park Academy we support SEN in a mainstream setting. We provide differentiated learning, resources and support, to meet the needs of individuals. Working with parents, children and fellow professions, the school develops pupil's potential both academically, personally and socially.

We support a variety of needs:
Communication and Interaction needs
Social, Emotional and Mental Health Needs
Physical/sensory Needs
Cognition and Learning Needs

We welcome conversations with parents and professionals to ensure we meet the needs of each individual.

Information on the Local Offer from Nottinghamshire can also be found on a website.

The best people to talk to in this academy about your child's difficulties with learning/Special Educational Needs and/or Disability (SEND) are:

Primary – Class Teacher
Primary – Family Support Worker
Secondary – Subject Teacher or Learning Manager
Whole School - SENCO

Class Teacher:

- Responsible for checking on the progress of your child and identifying planning and delivering any additional help your child may need (this could be things like targeted work, additional support) and letting the SENCO know as necessary.
- Completing the Graduated Approach/SEN Plan, and sharing and reviewing these with parents at least once each term and planning for the next term.
- Ensuring that all staff working with your child in the academy are able to deliver the planned work/programme for your child, so they can achieve the best possible progress. This may involve the use of additional adults, outside specialist help and specially planned work and resources.
- Ensuring that the academy's SEND Policy is followed in their classroom and for all the pupils they teach with any SEND.

Subject Teacher:

- Responsible for checking on the progress of your child and identifying planning and delivering and additional help your child may need.
- Reading the Education Support plan on file and ensuring the pupil's needs are built into their classroom practice,
- Ensure that all staff working your child are aware of their needs and differentiated planning
- Ensuring an update of SEN needs are relayed to the SENCO
- Ensure that the academy's SEND Policy is followed in their classrooms and for all the pupils they teach with SEND.

•

The SENCO: Mrs Louise Musson

- Responsible for coordinating all the support for children with Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities (SEND) and developing the academy's SEND Policy to make sure all children acquire a consistent, high quality response to meeting their needs in the academy.
- Updating the academy's SEND register (a system for ensuring all the SEND needs of pupils in this academy are known and monitored) and making sure that there are excellent records of your child's progress and needs.
- Providing specialist support for teachers and support staff in the academy so they can help children with SEND in the academy achieve the best progress possible.
- Ensuring teachers deliver an appropriate level of support, building up from early identification and assessment; classroom differentiation; targeted intervention; outreach and in-reach specialised support.

SEND Governor: Katy Gregory

- Making sure that the necessary support is made for any pupil who attends the academy who has SEND.

Identifying children and young people with SEN and assessing their needs.

The academy recognises that the early identification of a student's special educational needs together with appropriate multi-disciplinary intervention should reduce the need for more intensive support later in the student's academy life. As a result of this ethos, there are a number of assessment methods utilised by the academy to accurately identify and assess student's needs. Examples of assessment methods carried out by academy staff are dyslexia screening, online literacy and numeracy assessments and a paper assessment of reading and spelling. The academy also utilises a more detailed paper dyslexia screener to enable us to identify particular area of need. Services provided by outside agencies such as CAHMS, the educational psychology team, Specialist Teachers and the school nurse when deemed necessary are also utilised by the Academy.

Arrangements for consulting parents of children with SEN and involving them in their child's education.

Clear systems are in place to ensure that the parents/carers of pupils with SEN are regularly consulted and therefore actively involved in their child's education. A minimum of three review meetings are held in response to statutory requirements, which include parents/carers, academy staff and outside agencies when appropriate. The review meetings positively encourage parents and students to actively participate in their own target setting and provision put in place within the academy. In addition, regular letters and phone calls home are made when necessary to ensure parents/carers are fully aware of what is happening in the academy in terms of intervention strategies and student progress.

In addition to this, parent evenings are held regularly which enables parents to discuss their child's current attainment and progress with individual teaching staff. For students with SEN this information is also presented and discussed at their review meetings.

Arrangements for consulting young people with SEN and involving them in their education.

Students with SEN have a number of opportunities to be involved in their education. Students are encouraged to have an input into their statutory review meetings through identifying their strengths, areas for development and suggesting how improvements can be implemented. This can be from either pastoral or academic point of view.

Secondary Pupils

All students within the academy receive advice with regard to selecting their options at the end of key stage 3 and 4.

The academy has a system for supporting students in key stage 4 with their career choices, which involves regular appointments with the careers advisor.

Students with additional needs will have a support plan through any transition which is discussed in detail further in the document.

Arrangements for assessing and reviewing children and young people's progress towards outcomes, including the opportunities available to work with parents and young people as part of this assessment and review.

As previously stated regular review meetings are held in line with statutory requirements, where appropriate.

Both parents/carers and students are encouraged to contribute to the review meetings.

Review meetings are informed and supported by the following pieces of information; whole academy data capture which happens twice a year and feedback from academy staff with regard to attitude/behaviour/attendance.

In addition, where necessary, outside agencies such as the educational psychology team, school nurse and Specialist Teachers are involved in the process of assessment and review.

Furthermore, any student who is undertaking an intervention is regularly tested every half term to assess the impact and determine if further /alternative provision is necessary.

How can I let the academy know I am concerned about my child's progress in the academy?

You will be asked to attend a review meeting to discuss your child's progress and help identify next steps.

You may be asked to give your permission for the academy to refer your child to a specialist professional e.g. a Speech and Language Therapist or Educational Psychologist.

This will help the academy and yourself understand your child's particular needs and therefore provide specialist support within the academy.

How will the academy let me know if they have concerns about my child's learning in the academy?

If your child is identified as not making progress the academy will set up a meeting to discuss this with you in more detail and this will also be an opportunity to discuss any concerns you may have and plan any additional support your child may receive.

Arrangements for supporting students in through transitions and preparing for adulthood.

As young people prepare for adulthood outcomes should reflect their ambitions, which could include higher education, employment, independent living and participation in society.

The SENCo and Learning Managers will ensure smooth transition between all phases of education, in Secondary, until leaving our academy at the end of Year 11.

Similarly, when children move to full-time academy, extensive transition is in place so that this is a smooth process. Again, parents are involved at every stage and support is put in place according to the needs of the children. This continues as children move through our academy into Key Stage 1,2,3 and 4, with adaptations and changes taking place as necessary.

The academy has a system for supporting students in key stage 4 with their career choices. This involves regular appointments with the career's advisor. As children prepare to leave our academy, the SENCo and the Learning Manager of year 11 will liaise with the post 16 providers.

Children with additional needs are given the opportunity to visit their chosen place of study more frequently and again parents are involved at every stage. Any necessary adaptations are put in place and the class teachers are informed about the children's learning needs.

In working towards this principle, the academy will ensure that Academy staff work closely with colleagues on transition and accessibility.

There will be clear referral routes for staff who wish to bring to the notice of the SENCO a student who may be having special educational needs. Every consideration will be given to the views of parents/carers in the assessment and decision-making process.

Students with SEN will also be consulted whenever possible and in addition procedures for inter-service and cross-agency referrals will be actively used and reviewed regularly.

Approach to teaching children and young people with SEN

Class teachers are responsible for ensuring all lessons are differentiated to remove any barriers for learning within the classroom; known as Quality First Teaching.

For your child this would mean:

- That the teacher had the highest possible expectations for your child and all pupils in their class.
- That all teaching is based on building on what your child already knows, can do and can understand.
- Different ways of teaching are in place to enable your child to be fully involved in their learning.
- Specific strategies (which may be suggested by the SENCo or outside staff) are in place to support your child's learning.

Furthermore, all children in the academy will be receiving quality first teaching as part of excellent classroom practice.

The academy may also suggest that your child would benefit from some individual support in the academy. They will recommend how support will be used and which strategies will be put in place. This type of support is available for children with specific barriers to learning that cannot be overcome through Quality First Teaching and intervention groups.

How adaptations are made to the curriculum and the learning environment of children and young people with SEN

Numerous strategies are utilised by the academy to ensure students with SEN can access a broad and balanced curriculum. As previously outlined each member of staff has access to accurate resources such as the SEN register and pupil SEN reports to inform their planning.

Effective deployment of Teaching Assistants is applied across the academy.

Students are encouraged to make use of learning support at break and dinner times where TAs are available.

Your child may be identified as requiring specific group work to support their learning. (These groups are referred to as intervention groups and can be led by class teachers and/or support staff such as Teaching Assistants, both within and outside of the classroom.)

If your child has been identified by the class teacher or SENCO as needing some extra support in the academy in order to ensure progress, and have significant learning difficulties, after consultation and planning with yourself, they may be placed onto the “SEN support” register.

For your child this would mean:

He/she will engage in group sessions with specific targets to ensure progress. A teaching assistant/Bridge Manager will run these small group sessions using the teacher’s plan. This type of support is available for any child who has specific needs in their learning.

At this point, your child may also require some extra specialist support from a professional outside the academy. This may be from outside agencies such as the Local Authority central services such as the Cognition and Learning and Communication and Interaction team. Or also other agencies such as the Speech and Language therapy (SALT) Service.

For your child this would mean:

Your child will have been identified by the class teacher or SENCO (or you will have raised your own concerns) as needing additional support in addition to quality first teaching and intervention groups. As a result, it would be necessary to make adaptations to the curriculum and teaching. Giving your child access to ancillary aids and assistive technology where necessary, changing the learning environment to meet pupil’s needs.

The expertise and training of staff to support children and young people with SEN, including how specialist expertise will be secured.

Over the course of the academic year, academy staff take part, contributes to or delivers a range of CPD sessions. These sessions focus on developing teaching and learning across the academy, centring on areas such as differentiation and assessment for learning, to ensure each student’s needs are met.

Good practice is shared and developed at such sessions to develop consistency across the curriculum areas.

The academy also delivers specific training for all staff with regards to SEN needs which can be delivered by outside trainers and also Teaching Assistants who have wider understanding of a particular learning difficulty.

There is regular training for staff in order to meet specific needs.

In addition, strong links have been made by the SENCO with outside agencies to support pupils further.

Future training is constantly accessed according to staff requirements and the needs of the students within the academy.

Evaluating the effectiveness of the provision made for children and young people with SEN.

Regular evaluation of the effectiveness of provision takes place in a number of different forms. Firstly, attainment data generated through the academy's data capture is analysed by the teacher and SENCO and used to identify areas of strength and development for students with SEN across the curriculum areas.

Secondly, attendance and behaviour data are also tracked and analysed by the Learning Managers/Attendance Officer.

Finally interventions are monitored and tracked every half term.

In addition, Data meetings are held regularly for early identification of students that may require additional support to ensure progress.

How children and young people with SEN are enabled to engage in activities available with children and young people in the academy who do not have SEN.

The academy utilises a range of teaching and learning strategies to ensure an inclusive curriculum is adopted for all students, for example regular focused staff training, the use of support plans and clear strategies for differentiation to provide for all students learning needs. Additionally, extensive pastoral support is provided for each student within the academy, through the care and guidance of Learning Managers and Bridge Manager.

Support for improving emotional and social development.

Serlby Park Academy has an effective care and guidance team whom provide pastoral support to all students which may range from providing social and emotional support to students and informing parents of any incidents that may have occurred throughout the day.

There is a Learning Manager for each year group and each student within the academy is assigned a form tutor and these are arranged according to year group.

After school clubs are provided for all students to involve themselves with, including a cooking club which is run by a teaching assistant from the academy.

Pupils with SEN are able to have break and dinner times within the Inclusion Hub which allows students the chance to discuss any concerns frequently and to ensure provision can be arranged if required.

The Inclusion Hub is also used as a safe place for pupils with SEND so they are able to interact with their peers in a small and less daunting setting.

There is also a clear climate for learning which includes both sanctions and rewards.

All students and staff at the academy are fully aware of the climate for learning and it is used to promote positive behaviour and interactions.

There is an active student council within the academy which allows the students an opportunity to contribute to the policies and procedures adhered to within the academy. Student voice is also very active within the academy.

Furthermore, we also have a CASY counsellor that works within the academy and students can be referred to this provision if parents or teachers have concerns on a student's emotional well-being.

How the academy involves other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEN and supporting their families.

The SENCO/Learning Manager holds regular review meetings in line with each pupil with SEN. Students, parents/carers, TAs as well as other professionals are invited and encouraged to attend the meetings. The meetings focus on the intended outcomes for each student and targets put in place to aid the progression and ensure success of reaching these outcomes.

Outside agencies such as the Educational Psychology Team, Healthy Families Team; Specialist teachers, CAHMS, Social care and SFSS (Schools and Family Support Services) are contacted where appropriate for specific students, based on their area of need. At each stage parents/carers and students are actively involved.

The specialist will work with your child in order to gain an accurate and detailed understanding of their needs and as a result make recommendations, which may include:

- Making changes to the way your child is supported in class e.g. some individual support or changing some aspects of teaching to support them more effectively.
- Support to set better targets which will include their specific expertise.
- A group run by academy staff under the guidance of the outside professional e.g. a social skills group.
- Group or individual work with outside specialist.

In addition, you are able to request that the Local Authority carry out an assessment for an EHCP. This is a legal process which sets out the amount of support that will be provided for your child.

Arrangements for handling complaints from parents of children with SEN about the provision made at the academy.

If you have concerns about your child's progress you should speak to your child's teacher initially if your child is in the primary phase of the academy. Alternatively, you would speak to the Learning Manager at the Secondary phase. If you are not happy that the concerns are being managed and that your child is still not making progress you may contact the SENCO who will refer to the Senior Leadership Team.

There is an overarching policy for handling complaints available on the Serlby Park Academy website. However, we do strongly encourage parents/carers to either speak to or meet with the SENCO prior to this happening in order to work together to resolve issues if they arise.

If you need additional information form Nottinghamshire County Council:

SEN Link to Local Offer

Local authorities and other services will set out a local offer of all services available to support children who are disabled or who have SEN and their families. The local offer will enable families to understand what services they can access and what support they can expect from a range of local agencies, including from the local authority, health services, schools, leisure services and the voluntary sector. The offer will include provision from birth to 25, across education, health and social care.

All Nottinghamshire schools have a similar approach to meeting the needs of pupils with Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities and are supported by the Local Authority to ensure that all pupils, regardless of their specific needs, make the best possible progress in school. All schools are supported to be as inclusive as possible, with the needs of pupils with Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities being met in a mainstream setting wherever possible, where families want this to happen.
